POEMS AND REFLECTIONS

FUSION CITIES 2 MEETING
BY.....

PAUL LYALLS

POEM 1 ‘TOWIF (The Only Way Is Fusion)’

Step up, step forward, bring the core love Design – refine
It’s a circular economy of Curricular
So be particular Propose? Who knows?
Develop and envelop
Embrace, relate, replace re landscape
Go national, make it rational Recognise that each and every player
Has there own twist.
The secret is to make each one feel A List
A national standard is demanded Unify all the strands
So that everyone understands Avoid the bureaucratic
And always be emphatic
If you truly want global inclusion
The Only Way Is Fusion

POEM 2

'Progress in Progress'

Progress in progress
The blurred in focus Adapting, surviving, Going beyond just living...taking the step into thriving.

Life Long Learning, it's not just for Christmas and should be on everybody's wish list.

Creativity is just around every corner

Any age can wear it and it acts like armour.

Invest, it needs a cash fest, but it's all about doing what's blessed & best.

It's life related,

A pilot pathway for a one world community
that's not gated

And it's transmission needs rolling

Just like IKEA is forever flat-pack unfolding.

Holicism is at it's centre

And if we embrace it's adventure

We can connect culture and community

Work place and Life long learning continuity

It's an unspoken given, at the heart of a fusion cities vision.

That we care for ourselves and others, The planet,

It's winters and summers.

Because, Just like... Every bagel needs a hole

Like every mound on a lawn needs a mole

Like Starsky's Paul Michael Glazer needs a

POEM 2

And every Jack and Jill require a Hill upon which to tumble & roll.
We need to weave new pathways that measure
And redefine what's really we should treasure?
Values that go beyond our existing maze of success
To let us all those lives 'who can't breath' take their rightful breath.
Thus shifting the mindset,
Making the journey not just a demanding
'have we arrived yet'.
Every time we join the dots - Opportunity knocks
And every one is a chance to take strides in the world's future miles A race between technology, catastrophe and to a lesser extent Bohemian Rhapsody!
Let the old ways go, let the strands of fusion find their flows
And be prepared for Volatility, Uncertainty, Complexity & Ambiguity
Or in other words....Any way the wind blows.
